

Neith have been providing bespoke learning equipment for schools and organisations all over the UK for over 9 years.

Collaborative wood sculptors, we've specialised in large scale, grant funded, interactive sculptures that inspire imaginative play and encourage outdoor learning.

We also provide smaller equipment that can provide an outdoor learning space to encourage literacy and imagination.

Our story telling chairs and benches are an ethical and sustainable option, hand carved from UK grown, sustainably sourced timber. They are durable for outside and can be carved with varying themes.

Natural materials are beneficial for child development and our benches and chairs give staff a useful tool to engage their class.

We have full product liability insurance and deliver and install throughout South West England. Wood is a natural material and exhibits behaviour as such, this won't affect the integrity of the pieces
